PUBLISHING

Greetings from Osprey!

2020 is set to be a very exciting year for Osprey, with a host of fantastic titles publishing throughout the year. Our new military fitness title Be Para Fit (p.1) and its accompanying app are set to inspire beginners and aspiring Paras alike to journey towards elite fitness alongside former leader of Paratrooper selection Major Sam McGrath.

In the gripping Blood, Metal and Dust (p.2), Brigadier Ben Barry offers an explosive insight into the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, providing a detailed account of events on the ground during the conflicts. Given the ongoing scrutiny of the role of female soldiers in these and other conflicts, Julie Wheelwright's Sisters in Arms (p.2) is a timely and relevant exploration of the history of female soldiers across the centuries which challenges the contemporary relationship between masculinity and combat.

Tapping into the desire for alternative perspectives in military history, both The Devil's Bridge (p.4) and To Defeat the Few (p.4) explore key aspects of World War II through the eyes of German forces. In the former, Anthony Tucker-Jones examines the battle for Arnhem, the result of the disastrous Allied Operation Market Garden, whilst the latter, by Paul Crickmore and Doug Dildy is a fascinating analysis of the Battle of Britain from the perspective of the Luftwaffe.

Osprey Games also has a selection of exciting new releases this year, including Oathmark (p.26), a mass-battle fantasy wargame, and Letterpress (p.24), a clever card game for witty wordsmiths. Fans of Frostgrave (p.27) are set to enter the Frozen City once again with a revised and expanded edition of the multi-award-winning wargame, whilst Judge Dredd: Helter Skelter players will be able to adventure solo with the new Dark Judges expansion (p.25).

Enjoy!

In Good Faith

A history of the Vietnam War Volume 1: 1945-65

Sergio Miller

The first of a two-volume history of America's involvement in Indochina, from the end of World War II to the Fall of Saigon in 1975.

This volume tells the story from the Japanese surrender in 1945 through America's involvement in the French Indochina War and the initial advisory missions that followed. It describes how these missions gradually grew in both scope and scale, and how America became ever more committed to the region, especially following the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964, which led to the first bombing missions over North Vietnam. It finishes at the climax of Operation Rolling Thunder, just prior to the first commitment of US ground forces to the war in Vietnam in the spring of 1965. Examining in depth both the events and the key figures of the conflict, this is a definitive new narrative of American engagement in Vietnam.

Sergio Miller is a former British Army Intelligence Corps officer who served in Special Forces. He was deployed to Northern Ireland and undertook assignments in South America and East Asia. In the first Gulf War he served as an intelligence briefer to the UK Joint Commander. Since leaving the armed forces he has worked in the defence industry. He continues to support the Reserves and writes regularly on defence subjects.

Sisters in Arms

Female warriors from antiquity to the new millennium

Julie Wheelwright

A timely study that illuminates the neglected history of female soldiers from the ancient warriors of antiquity to the present day.

Beginning with the founding myth of the Amazons, Julie Wheelwright explores the history of women in arms. She traces our fascination with these figures, many of whom successfully disguised themselves as men, using primary sources and their own words to bring their experiences vividly to light. Among these forgotten heroines are Christian Davies, Ireland's most famous 18th-century soldier, who received poems from adoring women claiming that she represented a resurgence of 'the Amazonian race'; Sarah Edmonds, who left her native Canada and was among hundreds of women to enlisted on both sides during the American Civil War; Maria Bochkareva, a private in the Tsar's army and leader of the Women's Battalion of Death in 1917; and Captain Flora Sandes, hero of the Serbian Army who toured Australia, thrilling her audiences with tales of bravery and patriotism.

Dr Julie Wheelwright is the programme director of the MA Creative Writing (non-fiction) which she founded in 2007 at City, University of London. She is a prolific author and, as a former print and broadcast journalist whose career included producing and contributing to documentaries for BBC radio and television, Channel 4, and the History Channel, she has written widely on women in the intelligence services and in the military.

Blood, Metal and Dust

The Wars in Afghanistan and Iraq 2001–14

Ben Barry

The first authoritative military history of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan to tell the detailed story of what happened on the ground.

Inextricably linked to the ongoing 'War on Terror', the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan dominated more than a decade of international politics, and their influence is felt to this day. Blood, Metal and Dust is the first military history to offer a comprehensive overview of both wars, providing in-depth accounts of the operations undertaken by both US and UK forces. Brigadier Ben Barry explores the wars which shaped the modern Middle East, providing a detailed narrative of operations as they unfolded. With unparalleled access to official military accounts and extensive contacts in both the UK and the US militaries, Brigadier Barry is uniquely placed to tell the story of these controversial conflicts, and offers a rounded account of the international campaigns which irrevocably changed the global geopolitical landscape.

Ben Barry led the British Army's analysis of the lessons of the Iraq campaign, which, though classified, informs Blood, Metal and Dust. Before leaving the Army in October 2010, he wrote A Cold War: Front-line Operations in Bosnia 1995–1996, which was shortlisted for the British Army Book of the Year award. He has written extensively for IISS publications, and is one of the authors of the annual Military Balance.

In Cold War Skies

Michael Napier

A highly illustrated survey of the air power deployed by NATO and Warsaw Pact countries throughout the Cold War.

In Cold War Skies examines the air power of the major powers both at a strategic and at a tactical level throughout the 40 years of the Cold War. In this fascinating book, acclaimed historian Michael Napier looks at each decade of the war in turn, examining the deployment of strategic offensive and defensive forces in North America and Northern Russia as well as the situation in Europe. He details the strategic forces and land-based tactical aircraft used by the air forces of the USA, USSR, NATO, Warsaw Pact countries and the European non-aligned nations. He also describes the aircraft types in the context of the units that operated them and the roles in which they were used. The text is supported by a wide range of first-hand accounts of operational flying during the Cold War, as well as numerous high-quality images.

Michael Napier is an acclaimed author with six published titles to his name – including The Royal Air Force: A Centenary of Operations published by Osprey – and an ex-RAF Tornado pilot who saw front-line service during the Cold War as well as combat experience over Iraq. He is thorough in his research and, due to his knowledge of air warfare, is highly qualified to write on the subject.

Rome

City in Terror, 1943-44

Victor 'Tory' Failmezger

The gripping story of the German occupation of Rome from the Italian armistice in September 1943 until the liberation of the city in 1944.

In September 1943, after the announcement of the Italian Armistice, the German Army disarmed Italian forces and overran Rome. The Gestapo wasted no time enforcing an iron grip on the city, but resistance remained strong throughout the nine-month-long occupation that followed. Priests and diplomats operating out of the Vatican aided escaped POWs whilst Italian partisan fighters launched attack after attack on German military units in the city, with the threat of execution never far away.

Rome: City in Terror, 1943-44 tells the compelling story of an Eternal City brought low, of the terror and hardship of occupation, and of the disparate army of partisan fighters, displaced aristocrats, Vatican priests, Allied POWs and ordinary citizens who battled for the liberation of Rome.

Victor 'Tory' Failmezger is a retired US Naval Officer. In the early 1970s, he was stationed at NATO in Naples and in the early 1980s he served as the Assistant Naval Attaché in Rome, where he participated in the celebration marking the 40th anniversary of the city's liberation. He was later Director of the US Navy Science and Technology Group, Europe. His recent works include the popular American Knights (2015).

The Devil's Bridge

Arnhem 1944

Anthony Tucker-Jones

A new look at Operation Market Garden and the Arnhem campaign from the perspective of the German forces who defended against the Allies.

Operation Market Garden, the 17 September 1944 launch of the largest airborne and glider operation in the history of warfare, was intended to outflank the German West Wall and 'bounce' the Rhine at Arnhem, from where the Allies could strike into the Ruhr, Nazi Germany's industrial heartland. Such a move could have ended the war. However, the operation and the subsequent battle for Arnhem were a disaster for the Allies. Put together in little over a week and lacking in flexibility, Market Garden became an all-or-nothing race against time. This new book explores the operation from the perspective of the Germans, examining how they were able to mobilise so swiftly and effectively in spite of depleted troops and limited intelligence.

Anthony Tucker-Jones started his career writing for Jane's Defence Weekly and Jane's Intelligence Review. He has written a number of books on aspects of World War II and regularly appears on Sky News, ITV, Channel 4, BBC television, BBC radio and the History Channel.

To Defeat the Few

The Luftwaffe's campaign to destroy RAF Fighter Command, August–September 1940

Douglas C. Dildy and Paul F. Crickmore

This new history, based on an exhaustive study of German records, explores the Battle of Britain through the eyes of the Luftwaffe.

Successful air campaigns are those that achieve their intended aims or stated objectives. Victory in the Battle of Britain was determined by whether the Luftwaffe achieved its objectives; of course, they did not, and this detailed and rigorous study explains why. Analysing the battle in its entirety in the context of what it was – history's first independent offensive counter-air campaign against the world's first integrated air defence system – Douglas Dildy and Paul Crickmore set out to re-examine this remarkable conflict. Presenting the events of the Battle of Britain in the context of the Luftwaffe's campaign and RAF Fighter Command's battles against it, this title is a new and innovative history of the world's most famous air campaign.

Douglas C. Dildy is a retired US Air Force colonel who has authored several campaign studies and is a regular contributor to Small Air Forces Observer.

Paul F. Crickmore is the author both of the first detailed book to be published on the SR-71 Blackbird and of the much-acclaimed Lockheed SR-71: The Secret Missions Exposed, as well as the first detailed book about the F-117.

ISBN: 9781472833044

Empires have fallen, and the land is broken. The great oathmarks that once stood as testaments to the allegiances and might of nations have crumbled into ruin. In this lost age, fealty and loyalty are as valuable as gold and as deadly as cold iron, and war is ever-present.

Created by Joseph A. McCullough, designer of Frostgrave and Frostgrave: Ghost Archipelago, Oathmark is a mass-battle fantasy wargame that puts you in command of the fantasy army you've always wanted, whether a company of stalwart dwarves or a mixed force with proud elves, noble men, and wild goblins standing shoulder-to-shoulder in the battle-line. Fight through an integrated campaign system and develop your realms from battle to battle, adding new territories, recruiting new troop types, and growing to eclipse your rivals... or lose what you fought so hard to gain and fall as so many would-be emperors before you.

Even before the original Frostgrave rulebook landed in players' hands, its artwork, previewed in the run-up to release, attracted widespread attention and acclaim. Today, some eight volumes, two novels, and five boxed sets of plastic miniatures later, Dmitry and Kate Burmak have produced more than 85 illustrations, guided by the concepts developed by Frostgrave creator Joseph A. McCullough. Together, these three have breathed life into the Frozen City, depicting the wizards, warriors, and creatures that call it home.

With behind-the-scenes content, including concepts, sketches, work-in-progress shots, and commentary from the creators, this lavish volume features all the artwork produced for Frostgrave – from the rulebook that started it all to the Perilous Dark supplement.

RAGNAROK

HEAVY METAL COMBAT IN THE VIKING AGE

Ginnungagap, the Gaping Abyss, was once what separated the realms of Ice and Fire, keeping them in balance and sparing the other realms from their ravages. With the Nine Realms shattered, however, Ginnungagap has been left unguarded and unspeakable horrors now await those who wish to cross it.

Ragnarok: The Abyss includes new scenarios for Ragnarok as well as new monsters to vanquish in glorious battle. New mechanics introduce something once barely recognised by war clans – Fear – and present entirely new challenges for them to overcome in the telling of their sagas.

Price: £20 / US $30 / CAN $39.99

One of the most infamous and decisive battles of the Second World War, Stalingrad was a turning point of the Eastern Front, showing that the German juggernaut was not invincible. This new Campaign Book for Bolt Action allows players to refight the fierce Battle of Stalingrad, including the actions within the city itself and those of the surrounding area, the encirclement, and attempted relief and breakout. New, linked scenarios, rules, troop types, and Theatre Selectors provide plenty of options for both novice and veteran players alike.
